

Call for Writing

Sitegeist was founded with the intention of promoting varied, lively and creative approaches in writing to the questions of psychoanalysis today.

Our next issue, number 13, will be on the subject of gender and transgender and will consist of papers from our forthcoming Conference.

Abstracts and ideas for reviews are very welcome and should be sent to the editors, as outlined at the front of this Journal.

Reviews Policy

Part of the remit of Sitegeist is to encourage new thinking in psychoanalysis and philosophy, and we see reviewing new books in these fields as a crucial way to do this. Books for review should be sent to:
